this volume discusses the centuries old familiarity between europe and china it explores the european nations admiration for the distant asian country and their attempt at capturing the meaning of its ancient culture and language paradise lost is john milton s elaboration of genesis into an epic poem the poem begins with milton s invocation to a muse for help the action switches to hell where satan and his followers have been banished from heaven after trying to rebel against god bitter they try to make the best of things by building the palace pandemonium all the while plotting whether to get revenge against god by war or trickery after much debate they finally decide to try to sabotage the new world of earth and mortal man that god has created satan sets off for earth and meets his offspring sin and death at the gate of hell they let him pass and he journeys onward meanwhile god sees satan approaching earth and predicts the fall of man when no one else does god s son offers to sacrifice himself to save man this book explores darwinism in modern italian literature in the years between italy s unification 1861 and the rise of fascism many writers gave voice to anxieties connected with the ideas of evolution and progress this study shows how italian authors borrowed and reworked a scientific vocabulary to write about the contradictions and the contrasting tensions of italy s cultural and political economic modernization it focuses above all on novels by italo svevo federico de roberto and luigi pirandello the analysis centers on such topics as the struggle against adverse social conditions in capitalistic society the risk of failing to survive the struggle itself the adaptive issues of individuals uprooted from their family and work environments the concerns about the heredity of maladapted characters accordingly the book also argues that the hybridization and variation of both narrative forms and collective mindsets describes the modernist awareness of the cultural complexity experienced in italy and europe at this time queering w b yeats and gabriele d annunzio modernist playwrights challenges the general resistance in scholarship and queer studies to approach yeats and d annunzio through a queer lens because of their controversial affiliations with fascism and elitism their heterosexuality and their venerated canonical status this book provides the first fully theorised queer and comparative reading of yeats s and d annunzio s drama it offers the novel contention that due to their increasing involvement in queer and feminist subcultures their plays feature feelings that are associated with queer historiography and generate ideas that began to be theorised by queer studies more than half a century after the composition of the plays moreover it uncovers an alert subversive and often coded social commentary in eight key dramatic texts by each playwright and at the same time highlights the thus far neglected commonalities between the plays and the queer historical as well as cultural contexts of these two prominent modernists global perspectives in modern italian culture presents a series of unexplored case studies from the sixteenth to the twentieth century each demonstrating how travellers scientists catholic missionaries scholars and diplomats coming from the italian peninsula contributed to understandings of various global issues during the age of early globalization it also examines how these individuals represented different parts of the world to an italian audience and how deeply italian culture drew inspiration from the increasing knowledge of world otherness the first part of the book focuses on the production of knowledge drawing on texts written by philosophers scientists historians and numerous other first hand eyewitnesses the second part analyses the dissemination and popularization of knowledge by focussing on previously understudied published works and initiatives aimed at learned italian readers and the general public written in a lively and engaging manner this book will appeal to scholars and students of early modern and modern european history as well as those interested in global history chinese comparative literature has a great representative in the contemporary scholar and writer qian zhongshu 1910 1998 his comparative method defies every categorization and his extensive use of quotations in seven languages the main characteristic of his style creates a collage of literary motifs and genres that constitutes a fertile field for analysis to grasp the general principles of world literature italian quotations and the influence of italian literature on the comparative method of qian zhongshu are the main concern of this analysis and are a topic never before dealt with in mainland and overseas qian xue studies the study outlines the threads that move qian zhongshu in the choice of authors and works that constitute in quotation the core of his method and answers questions on the necessity of such a consistent use of quotations and on the role that foreign literatures with a focus on the italian one have in the definition of a comparative method that seems to be all inclusive and difficult to grasp to seize an understanding of the principles that lead global literature in an enhancement of mutual comprehension between countries and peoples seems a desirable yet unrealistic goal qian zhongshu through his use of quotations to establish a dialogue between different historical epochs and distant spatial settings wants to demonstrate that this desire is attainable a collection of essays that offers case studies that provide a coherent and organized overview of contemporary italian pedagogy it is suitable addresses the needs of instructors and teacher trainers putting in perspective different examples that can be used for more effective teaching techniques according to the actfl guidelines
